

Microdermabrasion, IPL & Transdermal Mesotherapy

July 13, 2016

I'm back today with another skin update and wanted to share with you gals some of the treatments I've had done recently at Skin Renewal. As most of you know, I've done a couple of Fraxel Dual Laser treatments at the Irene branch, with my main aim to combat and banish the pigmentation/ melasma on my face. After four successful sessions, which drastically reduced the appearance of my pigmentation, Dr Lawn suggested a custom programme featuring a few milder treatments to get my overall skin condition looking its best.

While Fraxel has been amazing, and I will sing it's praises to anyone who will listen (seriously, if you suffer with melasma/ pigmentation you HAVE to try this treatment), four sessions, on the whole face, do take their toll on the skin.
